Sector Challenges and Opportunities

Many manufacturing, retail and wholesale businesses are looking to improve operational and IT efficiencies, as well as the transparency of their supply chains. However, like many other businesses, you may find that your efforts are hampered by challenges with your legacy systems:

Complex and fragmented IT architecture
• Systems are slow or difficult to use
• Disparate systems don't communicate with each other, or require extensive manual processes

Limited growth capacity
• Lack of usable data
• Product availability must be ensured

SAP applications are the backbone of digital business processes for many enterprises. As you look for new ways to innovate and deliver differentiated value for your customers, modernizing your landscapes on SAP S/4HANA is a key step.
